MYBA INTERMEDIATE ONE-DAY SEMINARS — FOR EXPERIENCED — SUPERYACHT BROKERS

Why should you attend?

This one-day intermediate seminar is organised in association with MYBA and takes place in the idyllic setting of Nice in the South of France.

The seminar will gather together leading industry experts who will guide participants through an intensive and highly interactive day of analysis, debate and practical case studies on current aspects of Superyacht Broking.

A comprehensive programme offers an excellent chance to improve and expand your knowledge. The delegate numbers are strictly limited to 16 places to assist with the Q&A sessions and panel discussions. This ensures that all delegates can maximise the benefits gained from the practical examples and networking opportunities.

Take advantage of your opportunity to learn from leading experts and network with fellow brokers from within the Superyacht Broking field. As numbers are restricted, it is highly recommended that you register early to avoid disappointment.

Even if you are an experienced broker there are always things to learn. It was interesting to exchange cases and to know more about new regulations etc. Valuable and worthwhile coming back next year with my whole team. Thank you for bringing all of us together, it was great socialising with brokers from different countries and companies."

After doing the 3-day seminar a few years ago, it was great to do this 1-day seminar. The exchange of knowledge and experience was very interesting to learn and see that some situations are similar to some of own my experiences.

As always, the organisation was great, straight to the point and bringing once again, great speakers allowing a very interesting exchange throughout the day.

Thank you again for all of your time and expertise!

Great opportunity to discuss daily challenges and issues with experienced colleagues and lecturers, and listen about novelties in the market. I would definitely recommend.
